This Was What a Man
Had 100 Years Ago
'What's a Penny'

What were a man's possessions
100 years ago?

A priceless inventory appears in the Arizona Cattlelog, official magazine of the Arizona Cattle Growers association, published at Phoenix. Someone brought a copy to my desk (February 1954 edition) marked at a page reproducing an auction sale of a farmer who was leaving for the California Gold Rush in 1849.

Here is the auction notice:

GOLD RUSH SALE — Having sold my farm and am leaving for Oregon Territory by ox team, will offer March 1, 1849, all of my personal property to-wit: All ox teams except two teams, Buck and Ben, Tom and Jerry; 2 milch cows; 1 grey mare and colt; 1 pair oxen and yoke; 1 baby yoke; 2 ox carts; 1 iron foot of popular weather board; 300 to 400 three-foot chop boards; 1500 10-ft. fence rails; 1 60-gallon soap kettle; 86 sugar troughs made of white oak timber; 10 gallon of maple syrup; 2 spinning wheels;
30 lbs. mutton tallow.

1 large loom; 100 split hoops; 100 empty barrels; 32 gallons Johnson-Miller Whiskey; 7 years old; 20 gallons apple brandy; 40 gallon copper

WHAT'S A PENNY?
(Dallas News)

The alleged story out of Waco, Neb., is about an alleged filling station operator who dropped a penny here and there around his place to see the results. Older folks bent over and picked them up. Youngsters didn't bother—sometimes they even kicked the coins in disgust.

It's easier to believe the reaction than the story. But assuming both are true, the explanation is simple.
Youngsters—and we assume that includes those from around 7 to 13 — have been reared in a different atmosphere. A penny-saved-is-a-penny-earned is no longer written on blackboards. It isn't talked at home. The talk is: "Might as well spend it, or the government will get it." And what's a penny?

Very little—except those same youngsters will have to pay for the profligacy of the period when they were young.

Some day they will go to work and look back in the lusty past and realize why the old folks bent over.

Revolutionary Soldier's Grave Marked

A bronze marker, placed at the grave of Private Edward Johnson, an American Revolutionary Soldier, was dedicated Wednesday, June 9, 1954, by the Caddo District of the Arkansas Daughters of the American Revolution at Columbus, Ark.

After the presentation of the Colors by Girl Scouts Judy Keeley, Nancy Reece, Sherrie Hankins,
and Carolyn Yarbrough, the Pledge of Allegiance was repeated and the National Anthem sung.

Representative Talbot Field, in his address gave a brief history of Private Edward Johnson and stressed how important it is for the American people to safeguard the noble ideals won by those who fought and died in the American Revolution.

The dedication ritual was read by Mrs. J. L. Montgomery of Marianna, Ark. State Chairman, Graves of Revolutionary Soldiers and by Mrs. H. A. Knorr, of Fine Bluff,
Past State Regent of the Arkansas
D. A. R.

John Johnson Wilson Jr., the youngest descendant of Edward Johnson, unveiled the marker which was accepted by Mrs. B. W. McCarthy of Hot Springs, Caddo District Director.

The Colors were retired and taps and echo were sounded by Buglers from the Texarkana, Ark. High School Band.

The mound on which the Johnson family cemetery is founded was built by the early Indians of this territory and was used by them as a signal post.

Five D. A. R. chapters were represented at the dedication as well as many interested persons from this section of the state.

Among the direct descendants who attended the impressive ceremony were: Edward Johnson, Ashdown, Joe H. Johnson, Brokenbow, Okla., Mrs. Wyatt Hedrick, Ross-well, N. M., Mrs. Ed Dew, John
Dow, Clarksville, Tex., Mrs. Wilson
Green, Houston, Tex., Mrs. Ray Dobson, Texarkana, Mrs. Nick Jewell, Hope, Mrs. Jim Wilson, Mr.
Otis Johnson, Mrs. R. C. Stuart,
Mrs. Dave Wilson, Mr. Johnny Wilson and Johnny Wilson Jr., of Columbus.

Hunt on for Possible Plane Survivors

IWAKUNI, Japan (UP)—Planes and ships ranged over the East China Sea today in a vast hunt for a U. S. Navy jet bomber missing since yesterday with 17 men aboard.

The search was spurred by the admittedly slim hope that the twin-engine amphibious patrol bomber could still be aloft if it landed undamaged in the sea south of Japan.

The plane "dropped out of sight" yesterday while on a routine flight to Hong Kong from the Iwakuni Air Base. It had a radio contact with the base an hour and a half after a dawn takeoff as it left the Japanese coastline near Nagasaki.

Mystery Man's Acts Under Examination

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — Investigators went to work today digging into the actions of a mystery man in the Florida version of the "Mystery Man" case.

This man, a Pensacola resident,
was a go-between in what County Solicitor Clifford Kelly has described as a plot to murder three wealthy persons for profit.

In rapid-fire order since Monday there have been these developments:

1. Sheriff Pat Gordon staged a fake abduction of one of the intended victims, Mrs. Byrd Roach of Lake Wales, 51-year-old blonde widow, to make the principals think their orders had been carried out.

2. Gordon arrested Emmett
Donnelly, well-known Lake Wales attorney, and Willard Durkin, an Orlando building contractor, on three charges of conspiracy to murder for profit.

3. Gordon disclosed that the man picked as the killer, Manuel Reeves, a Pensacola Negro, had been keeping authorities advised of every step in the game.

4. Donnelly, 61, shot himself to death yesterday only a few hours after he was released in bond from jail.

5. The solicitor said Donnelly's death would have no bearing on prosecution of Durkin, now free in bond, but the next step would be to determine the exact part of the mysterious go-between.

6. The solicitor said Donnelly's

McCarthy Tells of Warning From Attorney Adams

By RAYMOND LAHR
and HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP) Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy testified today that Army Counselor John G. Adams warned him last January that the McCarthy subcommittee might be "wrecked" if it didn't cancel subpoenas for members of the Army loyalty board.

He charged that Adams used a "combination of salesmanship and threats" in a "blackmail" attempt to get him to a bandon efforts to call members of the board before the subcommittee for questioning.

McCarthy charged that the threats were made the night of Jan. 22 when Adams spent three hours visiting McCarthy's home.

He said Adams warned he would release a report charging that Roy
M. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, was using "improper influence"

to get special treatment for
Pvt. G. David Schine, unpaid Mc-Carthy subcommittee consultant until he was drafted last Nov. 3.

McCarthy called "Adams' report" "boldest threat."

"He told me," said McCarthy,
"that if (the Cohn-Schine report) might wreck the committee... that it would be better to cancel the call to the loyalty board members than wreck the committee."

The "blackmail" charge against Adams — which the Army counselor has previously denied under oath — was the high point of Mc-Carthy's direct testimony at the 31st day of the Army-McCarthy hearings.

Special Counsel Ray H. Jenkins, who began his friendly-toned direct examination of McCarthy late yesterday, ended that phase just when the hearing recessed for lunch. Mc-Carthy faced cross-examination by Jenkins in the afternoon session.

Welch Says Aid to Ignore McCarthy

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON (INS) — Army
Special Counsel Joseph N. Welch said today he doesn't think it necessary for Fred Fisher, a member of his Boston law firm, to reply to the charges made against him by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Welch's protest against the accusations at yesterday's Army-Mc-Carthy hearings lifted the investigation to an emotional peak unheard of in Senate proceedings.

Welch told newsmen today that he feels he presented the facts adequately yesterday in the stormy exchange between himself and Mc-Carthy and it would be pointless to prolong the issue or extend the witness list.

However, Special Committee
Counsel Ray H. Jenkins told reporters that "if this young man desires to come before the committee and state his position, I would heartily endorse the request."

Jenkins stressed that he is not suggesting that Fisher appear.

McCarthy brought out yesterday that Fisher once belonged to the National Lawyers Guild which has been cited by the House Un-American Activities committee as a subversive organization.

Communist Situation Critical, Ike Declares; Dulles Cites Differences

Fears Red Influence May Cause
40 Years of Trouble; Peaceful Nations Can't Seem to Agree

SEATTLE, Wash., (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned today that there may be "too much difference" between members of the non-Communist world.

"The degree of difference that is tolerable depends on the degree of peril, and there come times when differences must be voluntarily submerged," he said.

"Perhaps today there is too much difference between the members of the non-Communist world."

Dulles made the statement in an address prepared for the annual convention of Rotary International.

He did not say specifically where there may be too much difference of opinion, but he went on to discuss a number of world problems, including the Indochina crisis.

Dulles said the United States does not believe that it can alone solve problems elsewhere. "He said, 'The possibilities of solution lie primarily with the peoples directly concerned.'"

Discussing specific problems,
Dulles:

1. Warned that the time for European unity "is fast running out."
He again noted that France and Italy have failed so far to ratify the European Defense Community
(EDC) treaty and said if Western Europe is to remain divided there may have to be a basic shift in United States policy.

He said, however, he believes such a shift will be unnecessary.

2. Warned that Communist attempts to get a foothold in the Western hemisphere are aimed at bringing to the Americas "the same forces which have brought war and captivity and misery to so many hundreds and millions in Europe and Asia." He said he hopes the organization of American states will be able to help the people of Guatemala rid themselves "of the malignant force which has seized on them." If so, he said, the organization will gain a new stature and exert a new influence.

3. Said the United States "will never fight for colonialism." He made the statement in connection with the United States pre-requisite for collective defense of Southeast Asia that France assure the people of Indochina complete independence.

In a speech at Omaha, Neb.,
last night, Dulles said any "sacrifice" the United States makes to aid in Indochina must be made "worthwhile" by a foundation of moral principle.

The President went on to say, however, that he thinks his military budget is now large enough.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked whether he thought it would be feasible to ask Congress, before it adjourns, to vote him standby authority to intervene in Indochina if he deems it necessary.

"He replied that he has no such plan at this moment. He said any such thing would have to come up at the crest of some crisis. He again gave reassurance that he would ask Congress for authority before committing U. S. forces in Indochina."

On other subjects, Mr. Eisenhower told reporters:

1. He still supports all Republican candidates as a basic principle because he believes the President's party should have control of Congress if it is to be responsible.
But he added that he hoped the reporter who asked the question would not be specific as to candidates because it might be embarrassing to the President.

2. He believes the United States should give its allies more military atomic information. He added that his international atomic peace plan should be pushed regardless of whether Russia goes along or it.
He said last week that Russia had closed the door on hope of early agreement on the plan.

3. He considers that reserve of ficers of the armed services, as well as those on active duty, commit a reprehensible act when they participate in the unauthorized distribution of secret and confidential information. Mr. Eisenhower said all members of the armed services, both officers and enlisted men, should show an unquestioned readiness to obey military laws and the constitution.

919,000 Broilers
Placed in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A total of 919,000 broiler chicks were placed with producers in Northwest Arkansas last week.

The Federal State Crop Reporting service reported that 718,000 of the chicks were hatched in the area, and 206,000 came from other states. There were 245,000 chicks shipped out of Northwest Arkansas.

The report covered the week ended June 5.

VEGETABLES seem to be pouring in to this office and here is a couple of more... Joe Raschke of Spring Hill brought in a turnip that weighed three pounds and one ounce and measured 17 inches around... Dean Wilson of South Main has a sort of freak potato vine which is making potatoes both on the vine and on the roots... you can clearly count eleven small potatoes on the top part and a dozen or more which were growing beneath the ground.

Roosevelt May Settle With Wife

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UP) — James Roosevelt's sensational legal battle with his estranged wife cleared a possible settlement today on the heels of his resounding California primary victory. Both sides declared a "scandal truce" yesterday by calling off anticipated court action. Mrs. Roosevelt has accused him of being unfaithful with nine society women. The actions came shortly after the late president's building eldest son won a landslide victory in his bid for the Democratic nomination in the 20th congressional district.

The peace overtures pointed to an amicable property settlement and a quiet divorce but neither Roosevelt nor his estranged wife, Romelle, would say whether they had anything to do with his political triumph. Called off were Roosevelt's filing of an answer to his wife's separate maintenance suit and his deposition on her charges of adultery.

Spectator Sport

Basketball, which draws an estimated 75,000,000 attendance annually, is said to be the leading spectator sport of the United States. Softball attracts an estimated 130,000,000, but only 8,000,000 pay admission.

around their best in the early afternoon.

Giants went to between 1 and 2 points at the outside. Most, however, were small, and there were minor "minus" signs scattered throughout the list.

Firmness in the market was noticeable right at the opening, and the alacrity and steel rallied with enough force to start a general advance throughout the entire market.

Also higher were the railroads, motors, oils, coppers, chemicals, distillers, and radio-televvisions and some textiles.

But it more than impressed a group of 42 former war correspondents flown here by Pan American Airways for a tour of old battle scenes. It was so realistic that at one point, when a quadruple mount of 50 caliber machine guns began clipping tree branches on the road a few yards before them, several began moving nervously toward the nearest ditch.

The only foul in the maneuver came in the field of air support. Eight swift Sabrejets swooped down to knock out a strong point with napalm and 200-pou.d bombs.

They hit the target exactly, but about half the bombs were duds and none of the napalm containers flamed after hitting the ground. Some of the ground soldiers, knowing the nearest Czech jet airbase is only about three minutes flying time away, snickered aloud.

The air liaison officer looked unhappy. An admiral standing by looked cheerful.

"Who would you really rather have supporting you—the Air Force or the Navy?" a correspondent asked an infantry colonel who was explaining the operation.

"Well, I guess we really would prefer the U. S. Marines," said the colonel, grinning.

Commenting on the superior firepower of the modern army over any of the past, Brig. Gen. John Elmore, acting commander of the division, emphasized the penetrating power of the new Belgian-made Energa rifle grenade.

"It will go through 11 inches of armor at more than 100 yards," he said. "That means a Doughboy in his foxhole can knock out any tank now known to be in existence."

Gen. Elmore said his biggest problem is the turnover of trained men. His division of approximately 17,000 men had to train more than 11,300 new men in 1953, and will have the same problem with 8,000 more this year.

"But the spirit of the division—and spirit is as strong as any human force we know—is as high as ever, because these men have confidence in each other."

"The men think they are ready for anything. So do I."

Tornadoes Leave Three Persons Dead

By United Press
A tornado and storm killed three persons in the Midwest and a warning of possibly more twisters in Iowa was issued today.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said there was a danger of isolated tornadoes along a line from Sioux City to Dubuque and north to the Minnesota border. An earlier warning for the area between Des Moines and Waterloo expired at 6:30 a. m. EDT.

Meanwhile, a blanket of hot, sticky air settled over the nation's southeast, the southern and central plains and most of the Great Lakes region.

The tornado struck farm lands four miles south of Rockwell City, Ia., shortly before midnight, killing 23-year-old William Nicholson.

Calhoun County Sheriff George Dahlke said the twister cut a 200 yards swath of destruction across Nicholson's farm, leveling the house, barn and corn crib.

Dahlke said first reports indicated no other serious damage in the area.

Two 11-year-old boys, Dennis Le

Confidence Vote Called by Laniel

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (U.P.) — The specter of a prolonged Cabinet crisis threatened France and the Geneva conference today. Premier Joseph Laniel for the third time in five weeks demanded a vote of confidence.

Land and Donald Feld, were killed by lightning as a violent rain storm swept Milwaukee, Wis.

from the angry National Assembly.

The deputies will vote Saturday. Observers generally were pessimistic about Laniel's chances. The Premier survived his last confidence vote May 13 by the thin margin of two votes and some of his support seems to have deserted him since then.

Enough of the lawmakers may reconsider during the interim, however, to enable the government to squeeze through. Few of the deputies want to assume responsibility for jeopardizing the Geneva conference and there is no certainty any new government could be formed quickly.

The Premier's confidence vote demand came early today, at the end of an all-night session of the Assembly. It followed the deputies' refusal, 324-289, to consider an innocuous government-backed resolution on the Indochina crisis, offered as the windup of a four-day debate.

Many speakers accused the Cabinet and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, in particular, of not working hard enough for an Indochina peace.

Sequoia (redwood) forests which once spanned the globe are again spreading around the world through shipments from California, says the National Geographic Society with plantings in Wales, Hawaii, New Zealand, Japan, Alaska, South Africa, Germany and the U. S. West Coast.

Chicago Selects Convention Site

CHICAGO (UP) A mile-long site along Lake Michigan has been selected for Chicago's new Convention and Exhibits Building. The property was the site of the Century of Progress exposition in 1933-34 and the Chicago Railroad Fair in 1948-49. It covers some 56 acres between 16th and 23rd streets on the near South Side. Engineering officials of the city's Park District said the hall will be the biggest of its kind in the nation, larger than those in Cleveland and Atlantic City. Actual construction plans have not been made.

Everybody Writes Except the Martians

ALBUQUERQUE (UP) Everybody's writing to little Linda Sue Russell except the Martians. The 8-year-old "Little Girl Who Wrote the Martians" is receiving a stream of letters offering advice, prayer, thanks and hope from all over the country. Linda Sue recently wrote her simple letter addressed to Mars. It said: "What business I am writing about is to stop the earth people from fighting. All they have is war, war, war and I'm getting tired of it, so be here." "The Martians never came. But grateful people answered for them. Bless your heart and more power to you!" wrote a Santa Monica, Calif., woman. "Keep up your courage and believe in your ideals. Surely it is a thrill to know that a child has the vision of what is right." A young boy from Mobile, Ala., who doesn't want Linda Sue's schoolmates to laugh at her, wrote: "I am the Martian you wrote to and I would like to stop war in the earth too. I'm afraid I can't Treed by a Cat!

Big commotion last Tuesday when the Adams' cat chased a squirrel up a pine tree—and then couldn't get down.

A crowd collected and "Tiny" Field, the policeman, climbed to the rescue. But the cat went to the other side of the trunk and carefully clawed his way to the ground.

Tiny started to come down, too, but his revolver belt got snagged. Tiny was stuck! Someone called the hook 'n' ladder and the firemen finally rescued him.

From where I sit, even though we laughed at Tiny—we were actually pretty proud of him for doing more than his duty. A lot of us owe the public more than just "doing a job." Take Andy over at the Garden Tavern. Andy works voluntarily with the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. By putting extra effort into keeping his place clean and neat, Andy gets "extraordinary" praise from his friends and neighbors.

Soviet Commies Could Seize Indo-China

WILLIAM GALBRAITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — A high American official said today that the Communists may be able to complete their conquest of Indo-China in 30 days, if they do not experience any serious difficulties.

The possibility is causing concern in the administration. But officials said they still will make no move to intervene until the conditions for "united action" have been met.

The official declared that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave the Communists a much-needed boost in the arm at the Geneva conference yesterday by setting out a "united action" program.

The official said that the United States hopes to see some of the Communist forces saved from the Communists. They did not extend the hope to the strategic Red River delta area in the north.

The high-placed official said that the Reds launch an all-out assault they probably would over Hanoi in a month. He said it is particularly true because thousands of Communist sympathizers are operating behind the Iron Curtain lines.

There are two schools of thought among the majority believes the Reds will attack soon. Secre-

News Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The four winners of the highest wards for 4-H work in Arkansas will leave June 14 for the 24th annual national 4-H club camp in Washington, D. C.

The trip winners: Ed Greenfield, North Sebastian County, and Diane Dameron, Lee County, the top boy and girl in 4-H leadership; C. H. Stafford, Jr., Drew County, and Anna Lee Burton, South Logan county, award winners for the greatest achievement in 4-H work.

D. S. Lantrip, state 4-H club agent, and Miss Dorothy Price, district home demonstration agent, will accompany the delegation of tary of State Dulles indicated in his news conference yesterday that he inclines to this view.

Molotov's peace price called for Communist control of "three-fourths" of Viet Nam, "about half of Laos and a part of Cambodia, and agreement on political problems before any cease-fire.

U. S. diplomats said that if the British needed any one to act to convince them Geneva would not produce a fair Indo-China peace, Molotov's action should be the clincher. Therefore, they predicted British reluctance to move ahead with the U.S.-proposed Southeast Asia alliance pending outcome of the Geneva conference should disappear.

Officials here also think the French government, they explained, that the French government can now tell parliament the Communists are demanding the complete surrender of Indo-China despite Western efforts to negotiate a reasonable peace.

Washington. Lantrip said a series of tours have been planned, including a visit to the capitol, the White House, Arlington National Cemetery, and the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Crop Reporting Service today said soil moisture was adequate over most of the state but a few localized areas could benefit from more rain.

The agency, in its weekly crop report, said the cotton crop continues to improve and good stands now seem assured on most of the acreage. Cotton chopping is in full swing. Fields, however, are generally cleaner than usual.

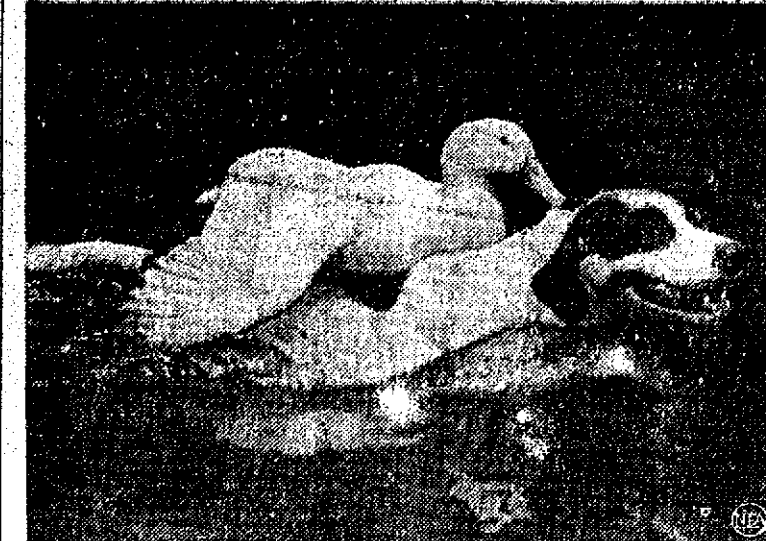

The peach crop in the Johnson-Pope counties area looks "very promising," the agency said, and is "good" in the Crowley's Ridge area. A part of the Nashville peach area was damaged by hail last May 28.

Feed crops continue to make good progress and the agency said the small grain harvest is under way in some areas with yields reported as "very good."

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Legislative Tax Institute met today to hear how much money state agencies expect to get from the 1955 state legislature.

Director Marcus Hathbrook of the Arkansas Legislative Council who is serving as institute secretary, said, "Invitations were sent to State Education Commissioner Arch Fowl, superintendent of the state hospital and Booneville sanatorium and the presidents of the University of Arkansas and other state-supported colleges.

Hathbrook said the heads of the agencies which spend a large part

Link leaned far out of his convertible, until his face was almost inside Ricky's coupe on Sharon's side. "Yo, Chub!" he yelled. Chub slid over and leaned out of his car until his face was inches away from Ricky. "Did you call me, Link?"

Ricky tried to ignore the two grinning faces at his windows, talking to each other through his car. It was an old trick. Usually he'd been one of the guys to do it. Now he knew what it was like to be the victim.

"Say," Link yelled, pushing his head in a little more. "I found a girl who ain't doing nothing. She must be alone. You find anything?"

"Nobody here but us chickens," Ricky turned his head slightly, his whisper covered by the loudspeaker in the car. "Lock your door and get ready to roll up the window."

When the doors were locked, Ricky waited his chance. Until Chub and Link had their heads stuck way in the car, trying to block the view while they yelled at each other.

"Now," Ricky said. With his left hand he rolled his window as fast as he could. It wasn't a big window, and in a moment he had Chub caught by the neck. A yell from Link indicated Sharon had caught him. "Roll down the window!" Link yelled.

"Watch your language in front of me," Sharon said indignantly. "Or I'll roll this window all the way to the top!"

Ricky blew his horn. "Aw, Ricky, don't be a louse," Chub pleaded.

"I'm not. You know who's been blew the horn again and again until two ushers with flashlights ran up to see what was going on. Ricky and Sharon rolled down their windows, freeing their prisoners.

"These boys were annoying us," Sharon told the ushers. "Outside, you two," one of the ushers said to Link and Chub. "You'll get your money back."

They climbed into their cars, disgusted and angry, starting them up with a roar calculated to annoy as many people as it could reach.

"Come on, Sherm!" Chub belted. Sherm's distraught face showed at his window. "I lost my key." "We can't wait!" Chub yelled. "We're being kicked out! Meet us outside."

The two feds flanking Ricky pulled ahead and roared toward the exit, churning gravel as they tried to spray it against the parked cars along the ramp. Sherm was on his knees in the darkness, trying to feel for his key.

"Sherm!" Ricky called. "I know where your key is. Watch the movie and I'll give it to you later."

"But the guys..." "Never mind the guys," Ricky said. "From now on you're staying part of it is date if I have to take you home in my trunk."

Sherm got up and dusted off his knees. His good-natured face lit up with a wide smile. "I didn't think you cared."

"I care," Ricky said grimly. "I care about the DTA. Now watch the movie." Ricky scowled at the screen.

"Ricky..." Sharon sounded worried. What do you think Link will do when you get home?"

"I can take care of myself and Link too."

When the show was over, Ricky gave Sherm his key. He waited until the impatient drivers had raced out before starting. Sherm followed.

Ricky drove out of town and onto the highway toward home. He drove at 50. It was a safe speed—and he wasn't in any hurry to get home. Sherm stuck right behind him. They'd gone about 10 miles when Ricky growled and looked irritated.

"What's wrong?" Sharon asked. "Sherm. He's right on my bumper. What's wrong with that guy?"

A moment later Ricky and Sharon were jarred as the car behind them bumped them slightly.

"The crazy fool!" Ricky exclaimed. "Norfing me!" Sharon looked back. "Ricky... it isn't Sherm."

"Huh?" "It's Link."

"He must have been waiting for us and sneaked in," Ricky muttered. His speed increased slightly. "Don't try to race with him, Ricky."

"I've got to keep ahead of him," Ricky swore as Link bumped him again.

"Ricky, please. Can't you see he's trying to make you mad enough to race? Then he can laugh in your face. He's trying to wreck the DTA."

"I know," Ricky gritted as Link bumped him again. "But what can I do? He won't pass. I have to keep ahead."

"Stop. It's better than risking everything. Your chance to enter the auto show... the DTA..."

"He'll stop with us." "Let him. We can outwait him."

"I have to get you home. Your folks..." "They'll understand. The way Link acts, I think he wants us to go fast so he can wreck us."

"Okay, I'll stop." Ricky signaled with his hand, slowed, and pulled off the road, coming to a stop. Link followed, then Sherm and finally Chub.

"Now what?" Ricky asked Sharon. "We don't move until he's gone on ahead."

"He'll think I'm scared." "What do you care what he thinks? His opinion doesn't mean anything."

"I'm not yellow," Ricky snorted. To Be Continued)

Rhee's Party Names Chairman

SEOUL (UP) Members of President Syngman Rhee's Liberal Party today pushed aside longstanding differences to agree on a chairman of the new National Assembly and give Rhee what appeared to be his first solid working majority.

Former Defense Minister Lee Keon Ngon, unsentenced P. H. Shinicky, leader of Rhee's opposition 124-32 or chairman.

The Liberals won a numerical majority in the Assembly for the first time this year. But there had been speculation that factional disputes would make it difficult for Rhee to retain a working majority.

In naming a chairman, however, only three Liberals refused to vote for Lee.

Buick Sales
are Soaring!

TAKR heart, good friend—you can buy a hit-of-the-year Buick if you can afford any new car.

And we proudly show our price here to prove it.

For this price is the delivered price—the local delivered price—of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three"—lower, in fact, than even some models of those very same cars.

But look what this Buick price gets you!

It gets you the very look of tomorrow in styling modernity, even to the spectacular new panoramic windshield that seems to outdate everything before it.

It gets you Buick V8 power—highest in SPECIAL history—plus the economy of new Power-Head Pistons.

It gets you Buick room, Buick luxury, Buick size and structure and solidity—including of course, the famed Million Dollar Ride and a new precision in handling ease.

It gets you, too, solid and deep-down value.

For any way you look at it, you're money ahead with the car that's years-ahead now in looks and line and the lift of its power—and the car that's outselling every other car in America except two of the "low-price three."

Drop in today or the first thing tomorrow—just to try and to drive and to compare a new Buick. We'll let the car prove its points.

French Bomb Bel Jump Bases

Indochina (UP) — French today bombed and destroyed bases used by Communist forces at jump-off points in the Hanouy region, about 20 miles east of Hanoi.

The French command speaks of the destruction of the bases as a major step in the campaign to clear the Hanouy area of Communist hideouts within a radius of 25 miles.

Concentrated raids against the bases were reported from the Hanouy region, about 20 miles east of Hanoi with reports of entry for American military supplies.

The French command speaks of the destruction of the bases as a major step in the campaign to clear the Hanouy area of Communist hideouts within a radius of 25 miles.

Defense Dept. Still Awaits McCarthy List

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense Department said today it is still waiting for Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's reply to its request that he furnish "as soon as possible" the names of 130-odd alleged Communists working in defense plants.

A spokesman said Assistant Defense Secretary Fred A. Seaton has had no answer yet to his letter of June 3 in which he told the Wisconsin Republican that "I can meet you or any representative of yours at any time" to receive the list.

The matter of the alleged subversives had been injected into the Army-McCarthy hearings several times and on June 2 the special subcommittee recommended that McCarthy turn over the list to the Defense Department.

Astonishment Still Happens in Washington

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's hard to cause astonishment with new misgivings about Communist infiltration of the government. This city has become a breeding ground for doubt and suspicion.

But it happens. It happened twice within a few days and in both cases, one real and one imaginary, the misgivings involved the Atomic Energy Commission, which directs the nation's whole atomic program.

Early last week a special board of inquiry, headed by Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, one of the world's great theoretical physicists, was loyal, highly discreet, a great keeper of secrets but —

The board decided 2-1 Oppenheimer no longer should be entrusted with secret information by this country's development of the A-bomb during the war and has been a consultant to the AEC ever since. The full five-man AEC has decided to review the board's ruling.

A few days later Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) raised a nightmarish question about the AEC, whose members are picked by the President himself.

This was it: suppose someday one or more of the five commissioners should turn out to be security risk and not entitled to all the atomic information given the other commissioners.

Cole is chairman of the Senate House Committee on Atomic Energy, which acts as watchdog on the AEC.

The committee is considering an amendment on June 2 the special subcommittee recommended that McCarthy turn over the list to the Defense Department.

The senator told he was willing to give the department the names on the condition that they not be made public and that an official stenographer be present at the conference where the names were delivered.

Seaton wrote McCarthy that he had no objection to a stenographer or reporting their conference but said that the Defense Department "cannot make any advance commitment" to keep the names secret. In fact, he said, it was possible that the department already had begun action regarding some of the persons included in McCarthy's list.

administration bill to make some changes in the basic Atomic Energy Act passed in 1946. All five members of the AEC have testified.

One of them, Thomas E. Murray, said he would like the law, if it is amended, to say clearly that "all members of the commission shall have equal authority and responsibility... and full access to all information."

Murray, together with Henry D. Smyth and Eugene M. Zuckert, had been appointed to the commission by former President Truman. President Eisenhower has appointed the other two: Adm. Lewis L. Strauss and Joseph Campbell.

The three Truman appointees voiced fear that some of the language in the bill — saying the chairman, in this case Strauss, should be the "principal officer" — would make Strauss a czar and cur the other members out of some vital decisions.

Murray expressed opposition to this idea and complained that Strauss had taken a number of actions without consulting the other members.

At this point Cole stepped in to say he was willing for the law to say all the members of the commission should have equal responsibility and authority, as Murray suggested. But he added:

"I am not quite so willing to accept the latter part of it (Murray's suggestion that all five members have equal access to information)."

Why shouldn't all five commissioners, if they're going to run the atomic energy program, have full knowledge of what's being planned and done?

Cole said because it would "render helpless a commission which at some time in the future by majority vote might determine that one or two of the five commissioners should not have certain information."

At this point Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) said he was "astounded." He asked Cole if he meant to suggest that someday some individual member of the AEC itself might be considered loyal and discreet but a security risk.

Cole said he had something like that in mind. So, instead of having the law say all members must have all information on the atomic program, he said a majority of the board should decide who among them was entitled to have it.

If he had carried his thinking one step further it would have come to this: maybe someday a majority of the five-man AEC might be security risks for, if one or two could be risks, then three or four or all five might be.
